

Bedtime Story For the Little Ones

UNCLE WIGGILY AND THE BIG RAIN.

By HOWARD R. GARIS.

THERE was a big rain in Woodland, where Uncle Wiggily Longears, the rabbit gentleman, lived in a hollow stump bungalow with Nurse Jane Fuzzy Wuzzy, his muskrat lady housekeeper. It stormed for a week.

"And it doesn't seem to ever want to stop," spoke the bunny uncle as he stood looking out the window, with his pink, twinkling nose pressed against the glass. "Have we enough to eat, Nurse Jane?"

"Yes, for a little while longer. But in another day or so we'll need bread and sugar. I don't see how I am to get out, though, to go to the store after them."

"Make your mind easy about that, dear Miss Fuzzy Wuzzy," spoke the bunny uncle. "I'll go."

"But in this big rain you can't," said Nurse Jane. "You'd get soaking wet."

"Not in my rain coat, with my rubber boots on and an umbrella to keep dry my tall silk hat," said Uncle Wiggily.

So two days after that, when it was still raining hard, and there was no more bread or sugar left in the hollow stump bungalow, Uncle Wiggily took his pink, twinkling nose away from the window, said:

"Well, I'll go to the store, rain or no rain."

Away he started in his coat, rubber boots and umbrella, and until he got outside the bungalow he had no idea how hard it was raining. The big drops just belted down, splashing and even through the umbrella. But that was not the worst.

All over Woodland were big puddles of water, and after Uncle Wiggily had stepped in two or three of them, going in over the tops of his boots, he said:

"This will never do! I need a boat. I'll have to get a boat to go to the store."

Back he waded to his bungalow, soaking wet, and while Nurse Jane was drying him out by the fire he said:

"Have me a boat anywhere around here?"

"When I tell you I have been completely relieved of three years of awful suffering and have actually gained twenty-five pounds in weight besides, you can readily understand why I'm so strong for Tanlac." This statement, which is indeed remarkable, was made by Tom McClenon of 1212 Grama street, El Paso, in a conversation with a Tanlac representative a few days ago.

"I had a number of troubles," he continued, "and it was the first time in several years I was rid of rheumatism. Before I began taking this Tanlac my legs and feet were swollen all the time and sometimes I couldn't get my shoes on. The pain was something awful and I was so nervous and miserable I didn't sleep. I had no appetite and nearly everything I would eat, I disgorged with me. My stomach would sour and the gas would press on my heart so I could scarcely breathe. Besides my terrible suffering, I had a terrible tired feeling and would wake up in the morning feeling so unaccountably tired I could hardly get out of bed."

"I tried every kind of treatment and medicine I heard of but got no relief until I began taking Tanlac. A friend advised me to take Tanlac but I just thought it was like the rest of the medicines I had tried and would do me no good. Then my wife begged me to take it and I've been glad a thousand times for three bottles of the medicine have simply made me feel like a brand new man through and through. I have never in all my life had such a rejuvenated appetite and you may know everything agrees with me as I could never have gained so much in weight. I sleep all night long without waking and my nerves are as steady as a clock. All the swelling and pain has left my feet and legs entirely and I'm never bothered any more with gas on my stomach, shortness of breath or other signs of indigestion. You may want me among the many Tanlac hunters and you are welcome to this statement, which I hope will be the cause of others finding relief."

Tanlac is sold in El Paso by Kelly & Pollard Company, Inc. Under the personal direction of a special Tanlac representative—Adv.

Massage.

JUST a little chat about massage today. I do not want my readers to underestimate the value of massage, but on the other hand, I do not want to give the impression that massage is a cure-all, and that the way to being beautiful lies through it.

The chief value of massage is that it brings the blood up into the skin, and the blood brings the moisture, and the moisture brings the life. It is a simple matter, and it is a simple matter to learn. It is a simple matter to learn, and it is a simple matter to learn.
